Dear Coach Smith:

First of all, I would like to thank you and your staff for the many opportunities and benefits afforded me this year. However, I would like to announce my intentions to "test the waters" in the 2005 NBA Draft. My intent is not to obtain an agent so as to maintain my collegiate eligibility.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Randolph Morris". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Randolph" being more prominent than the last name "Morris".
